Already, I can…

…label a world map.

…explain where our water comes from.

…discuss the differences between the layers of the ocean.

…explore the effect of plastic pollution in our oceans.

…create a diagram explaining effect of erosion.

Can I…

Can I locate both Mexico and England on a map, make a list of the major cities and note their location within the country using appropriate vocabulary?
Can I identify the physiographic regions in Mexico and investigate one region?
Can I create a comparative booklet comparing Mexico and Kent?
Can I research the Lacandon and create a report about why it has received so much press attention?
Can I compare the lives of indigenous Mexicans with the life of my family and me?

My sticky knowledge…
